THE STRATEGIC PLANNING PROCESS

ORIGIN
In November 2017, Interim President Kloos initiated a process to advance the College’s strategic framework by developing a set of strategies and objectives that align with the College’s capabilities to drive its execution. The process was sustained by a broad representation of the campus community. What resulted is a set of strategies and objectives organized by six pillars of success: Student Success, Community Building, Developing a Skilled Workforce, Sustainability, Employee Engagement, and Equity and Inclusion.

ABOUT SCTCC
St. Cloud Technical & Community College was founded in 1948 as Minnesota’s second technical college. Its 90+ program options closely match Central Minnesota’s economic needs, displaying SCTCC’s commitment to partnering with area businesses and meeting the workforce needs of our community. Within a year of program completion, 97.5% of our graduates are employed within their fields of study or successfully transfer to continue their educational goals.

The College is an economic engine for Central Minnesota. By partnering with area businesses like CentraCare, Cold Spring, Park Industries, Talon Innovations, and Xcel Energy, SCTCC offers relevant programs preparing graduates with the necessary knowledge and skills to be successful.

GETTING STARTED
As part of its accreditation process with the Higher Learning Commission, the College sent an eight-member task force to attend a strategy forum to define a thorough planning process necessary to achieve the strategic plan alignment. For the process to work, the priority was to seek input from both internal and external stakeholders, including students, faculty and staff, alumni, and community members. From November to April, the College sought and received input from all faculty and staff and a large number of students and community members in an iterative and collaborative process that developed and refined the plan’s strategies and objectives necessary to achieve the College’s pillars of success.

NEXT STEPS
The draft goals and objectives in this document are the result of the campus community working together during the planning process. Prior to the fall semester, the College will reinitiate the process during Welcome Back day. The goal during the months following will be to finalize the goals and objectives, develop prioritized action plans to achieve them, and a set measurable outcomes for each.

The past six months have been a reminder that a collaborative planning process is the glue that holds the campus community together. As the strategic planning process moves forward, continued involvement from the entire campus community will be key to its success.
